Supplement Production & Services

Three times a year, the Production & Services special focuses on machines and systems for electronics production - from PCBs and PCB assembly to the machines required for the packaging processes of IC housings.

In particular, this also includes advanced packaging processes, in which PCB production, assembly, mounting and traditional back-end and front-end processes merge. In addition, we also deal with assembly and packaging services, from EMS to OSAT companies (Outsourced Semiconductor Assembly and Test), whose services we present. With an advertisement in the "Production & Services" section, you can reach decision-makers in your topic-relevant environment and benefit from a broad readership.
